LOG STEALING We last with equal surprise and regiet, that Governi- Pairfield and his Council have grant ad a full and free pardon to Soper and Stapley ment which actuates such apparent intereste Ahs were convicted of stealing logs on this riv | sentations is the fear that the great like to be the er, and a plenced, after great excitions to present if in a certein gunter, by Judge Perham, to one year's imprisonment in the State Prison | They were in that Passon just eight days !! What re per hight having rescued it from the rumous presentations were made, what influence was exerted, what motives were appealed to, we Enow not, but this we do know that a greater and clearness which characterised the lamented Madawaska Mr Justice Wiffigurson of this and grosser outrage upon law and order, upon LINCOT N. Let our opponents publish the the security of men a rights of progree'y, and upon the vital interests upon this river, has never been sanglioned or tolerated. For years the selves owners of logs and lumber upon the Penobscot bave suffered immense injury and loss, by the held the message of Gov Kent from their read bold and persevering system of plunder adopted ers, and continue to misrepresent his policy. It stealing other men's property. From the very nature of this kind of property, it is very much islature together will his letter to Gov Harvey exposed, and proof of the offence very difficult at the boom and are raited out, they are of necessity exposed to plunder

The policy of all penal laws is to punish in some proportion to the necessary exposure of the | property and the difficulty of conviction Stealing cloth from a clothier s pins has often been cited as an instance. After suffering mins and large losses, and after the evil and villainy had become-insumerable, an effort has been made to detect and bring to justice these offenders A large number of indictments have been heretofore found, and trials had, but soutchow or other the prosecuting officer had very bad luck in obtaining convictions. It seemed almost impossible to get proof enough, and men grew beider ! and more addecious in their logatealing 5 per and Staples were however convicted upon clear, unquestionable evidence, of a most barefaced attempt to steal their neighbor's property, and alter all kinds of legal quibbles were exhausted, unfortuna e disagreements, and irreconcilable were at last sentenced to the State Prison, and the bonest owners of proporty upon the rivers began to hope that a salutary effect would be produced by this example of the majesty of the that golden rule, which, although perhaps it is law, and that some little security would be afforded to their exposed property. At the very time of the sentence, however, it was whispered do unto you that they would yet escape, and that certain influences would be brought to bear to effect their release, that they would not be sent to I homas the officers of the Province of New Brunswick, | posed, but because the Tories disgraced themton, or if sent, be released in a few days. And there should not be alterwards any occasion to their course an regard the meet the aggressors, no boson need lear, so it has proved.
